Warrants are for Investors with a high level of risk tolerance. They offer the opportunity to participate disproportionately in the performance of the underlying asset of your choice with a relatively low capital commitment. Depending on the product structure, Investors can benefit from rising (Call Warrant) or falling (Put Warrant) markets. The risk of loss is limited to the invested capital. The price of a Warrant can be influenced by several factors besides the movements in the price of the underlying, in particular: time to expiration, implied volatility, risk-free interest rate and expected dividends.
